

Honesty is The Best Policy

Using ActivTrak's employee monitoring and analytics service, Linden Care, LLC is able to ensure open and honest communication between management and employees on the subject of internet usage.

Executive Summary

A pharmacy with a loyalty to those who suffer with pain, Linden Care adopted ActivTrak's software to ensure employees' focus remains on delivering top-notch results, not distracting websites. With ActivTrak's easy-to-use features, Linden Care can block websites that do not contribute to the overall benefit of the company.

Background

Linden Care, LLC (NDEREP) is a specialty pharmacy with a focus on pain management to meet the unique needs and challenges facing patients, their caregivers and practitioners.

Linden Care has the infrastructure, the expertise and the staff to deliver high quality chronic pain support anywhere in the United States – right to your front door with no delivery fees.

The Challenge

As Linden Care expanded to meet nationwide demand, they hired a considerable number of new employees to keep up. With so many employees, managers cannot be expected to stand over the shoulders of every individual to ensure productivity.

Despite the ease in which one can use the internet for personal activity during work hours, Linden Care needed to be able hold their workers accountable for the way they spend their time while on the clock. This task came with its own challenges. Linden Care soon faced the issue of finding the perfect tool to help keep employees productive.

As Linden Care came to find, many monitoring services come equipped with unnecessary features, which made them complicated to use. The added details provided little-to-no value in helping them achieve their goal. The hefty price tag was also unappealing.

The Solution

After a few quick email exchanges and a free trial to test it out, Linden Care decided to move forward with implementing ActivTrak throughout the company. The process was fast and painless – no sales methods involved.

It became increasingly evident that the software was a perfect match for Linden Care's needs. ActivTrak's seamless installation process and intuitive interface fit well with the large number of employees they sought to monitor in a simple and efficient way. Managers in particular enjoyed the simplicity of using the software, because it doesn't require any prior technical knowledge nor complex details to get accustomed to.

But where ActivTrak truly aligned with Linden Care was its remote capability. Managing employees' internet usage across the nation can result in significant productivity issues, but ActivTrak allows Linden Care to keep their employees honest in any one of their locations.

Success Story

Of Linden Care's 140+ employees, over two-thirds of the work stations are paired with ActivTrak agents – and that number is rapidly increasing. Linden Care plans on expanding further, installing the software on more company computers of both in-office and remote employees. Since installing ActivTrak, Linden Care has been able to better track computer usage within the company, and can work with employees who may not be using their time as they should.

I am glad that I went with ActivTrak. The whole process with ActivTrak has been seamless, even the upgrade from 50 to 100 employee package. I would recommend ActivTrak to everyone who owns a business.
